

Planning & Construction Proceedings

The wide-ranging zoning and construction aspects of a transaction are critical to a project's success. Our strength in this field stems from a wealth of experience in providing ongoing advice and support in the planning stages of the different types of projects. We are sought out for track record in handling zoning proceedings vis-à-vis the planning authorities, the Israel Land Authority, local authorities, and relevant government offices. We also provide representation in legal proceedings relating to this area, such as objection proceedings, appeals committees, administrative petitions, and petitions to the High Court of Justice.

Due to the firm's professionalism, understanding of the real estate field and our sector expertise, Lipa Meir & Co.'s clients benefit not only from a wealth of real estate expertise, but also an understanding of the increasing convergence between real estate and the law.
